Rt. Rev. John J. Nilan Confirms Class of 222—Consecrates New Cemetery—Auto Borrowed from Private Garage—State Federation Meeting.

A congregation exceeding the seating capacity of St. James' church welcomed Rt. Rev. John J. Nilan, bishop of the diocese of Hartford, Friday morning, when he came to Danielson for the first time in his official capacity. Every seat in every pew was filled before 9 o'clock, the hour set for the beginning of the mass after which confirmation was to be conferred. The choir loft and the space at the rear of the church was also filled with parishioners and visitors from nearby towns. Within the sanctuary with Bishop Nilan at the beginning of the mass, of which Rev. J. P. Guilnet, M. S., of Hartford, formerly of Danielson, was celebrant, were a dozen pastors and curators from surrounding parishes. The class to be confirmed numbered 222, there being nearly an equal division of boys and girls and a few adults. The girls in white and wearing veils made a pretty picture. The pews at each side of the altar were reserved for those who were to receive the sacrament.

At the conclusion of the mass Bishop Nilan commenced the confirmation ceremony, his assistants being Rev. John Van den Noort of Putnam and Rev. J. H. Broderick of Moosup. The sponsors were Mrs. Benjamin Kennedy and Edward A. Sullivan. Nearly half an hour was consumed in conferring the sacrament.

Standing at the sanctuary rail, after conferring the sacrament, Bishop Nilan addressed the congregation briefly, speaking in both English and French. He spoke of the significance of the sacrament of confirmation, its purpose and influence, based on the authority of Christ Himself. The prelate's words were simply spoken, addressed particularly to the children, but of absorbing interest to all who heard them. They contained an admonition to righteousness and perseverance in Christian fortitude—an explanation of the doctrine of the descent of the Holy Ghost upon those confirmed. To the parents Bishop Nilan addressed a suggestion of the immeasurable value of giving good example of living in the fear of God.

On their knees at the conclusion of his address, Bishop Nilan pledged all confirmed to total abstinence until their 25th year, by which time, the bishop said, he hoped all would say a prayer for him. In advance of giving the pledge Bishop Nilan referred to the great evils wrought by intemperance and the small part that it has played in so many lives.

The service was concluded with benediction of the blessed sacrament, Rev. J. J. Ely of Pomfret officiating, assisted by Rev. Peter Roux of Danielson.

Consecration of New Cemetery.
 At 11 o'clock, a half hour after the church service, Bishop Nilan and the clergy, with between 300 and 400 members of the parish, gathered for the consecration of the new St. James' cemetery on Maple street.

This ceremony, never before witnessed by more than a few of those present, consisted of the blessing of the great cross that rises from a large circular mound in the center of the new burial ground, the chanting of litanies and the traversing of the cemetery north, east, south and west, in the form of a cross, by the procession of clergy and altar boys, ritualistic form being observed at each point.

The new cemetery is a beautiful 12-acre plot of rich rolling ground, rising high above the west bank of the Assisquamis river.

Other priests present and participating in the exercises of Friday were Rev. Arthur O'Keefe of Taftville, formerly of Danielson and Waukegan; Rev. H. Fitzmaurice, Jewett City; Rev. B. W. Donnelly, Grosvenordale; Rev. P. Mathien, Moosup; Rev. J. A. N. Cronin, Danville, and several members of the Order of Litanies, with which Rev. Celestin Crozet, Rev. Peter Roux and Rev. Victor Faure, all of St. James' parish, are identified.

All of the clergymen were entertained at dinner at the rectory on Franklin street, Bishop Nilan left Danielson for Norwich during the afternoon.

Manchester Pastor to Preach.
 Rev. Charles N. Lovell of Manchester, this state, is to come to Danielson Sunday, exchanging pulpits with Rev. Clarence H. Barber, pastor of the Congregational church. Rev. Mr. Lovell has previously been heard here.

Faith the Theme.
 A continuation of last Sunday's discourse, Faith, will be Rev. Thomas Feltman's subject at the Advent chapel tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Joy Ride Admitted.

Hard to do housework with an aching back. Every hour of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that Backache pains come from sick kidneys. 'Twould save much needless woe. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Norwich people endorse this:

Mrs. Oscar Bjork, 159 Mt. Pleasant Street, Norwich, Conn., says: "I found splendid results from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and therefore do not hesitate to recommend them. For some time I was greatly annoyed by backache and when I first arose in the morning, the pain in my loins was always more severe. Often I lay down, my back became so lame and painful that I was scarcely able to arise. My mother told me that my ailment was due to what I required and in a short time the pain and lameness disappeared. In fact, I felt better in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills lived up to all the claims made for them."

The Extreme of Degradation.

The pitiful spectacle of a woman so absolutely demoralized that she sank face downward in a sandy street not far from the business section of Danielson Friday morning, so utterly without control of her faculties that she had to be bodily carried to her home, was a significant if humiliating example of the possibilities of life in a community where the vice that has clutched this victim is supposed to be under control.

Angelus Ramolo Survives Savage Wound—Sabbatino Damati in Jail in Default of $5,000 Bonds—Many Apply for Liquor Licenses—State Forester Coming.

Angelus Ramolo was tenaciously clinging to life at the Danville hospital late Friday, although it was believed by the physicians that he could live only a short time when he was taken there Thursday night, after being badly injured in the cutting affair on Elm street. His surprising vitality after the loss of such a quantity of blood has aroused hope that he will recover. This is still doubtful, however.

In the meantime, Sabbatino Damati, boss of the sewer gang, in which Ramolo was employed, has been apprehended, charged with the attack, and is now held at Brooklyn jail during a two weeks' continuance of his case, in default of the bond of $5,000 named as the price of his release by City Court Judge L. H. Fuller.

Damati is charged with assault on murder, to which he has pleaded not guilty. Attorney Charles L. Torrey has been retained as counsel by the prisoner, who is a man of some means.

Speedy Capture.

The capture of Damati in the railroad yards near the Providence street bridge just before midnight Thursday closed a quick and effective piece of work by the police, who were greatly handicapped in getting information in the case. Captain Murray, Sergeant James O'Brien, John McGuire, and James O'Brien were scouting that section when the captain saw a man climb up over the bank. He grabbed the fellow, who proved to be Damati's brother. This fact convinced the officers that their man was somewhere thereabouts and it was only a few minutes later when Sergeant Hayes and Officer McGuire caught sight of Sabbatino skulking along the tracks. McGuire grabbed him, but not before Damati made an attempt to get his hand to his hip pocket, from which the officers later took a .35-caliber revolver, which is now at the police station.

Result of Quarrel.

The prisoner denies that he is responsible for Ramolo's condition and says that the latter was cut by another man, a cousin of Damati's, who is missing. There were some words between two of the party of seven laborers over the discharge of a fellow workman; that Ramolo stepped between them and was stabbed or cut.

Accuses Damati.

In his sworn statement to Coroner Bill Ramolo accuses Damati of cutting him.

Prosecuting Attorney Bradford has listed to several stories of the affair, but they conflict on certain points. All agree, however, as to Ramolo's stepping between the men who were engaged in dispute. The men who know most about the case will give but little information of value. The continuance of the case for two weeks is expected to give ample time to de-

Burial by Degrees.

The few old ex-slaves now left in the West Indies have many curious customs, but the most curious is that of burying themselves on the installment plan. When they comb their hair they are careful not to pull more hairs from the head than they can help. Those which come away they roll into a ball and put into a bag of white muslin. They do the same with the parings of their nails and any other portions of their anatomy which become detached. When the bag is full they bury it. If asked why they do this they reply: "When me dead, nesses, you bury me body. Me hair an part of me body, so me bury it now when it dead."—Exchange.

Chalmers MOTOR CARS

"30" $1500.

"Forty" $2750.

What $1500 is Worth to the Automobile Buyer

JUDGED by price alone you might as well buy some other car as a Chalmers; $1500 is $1500—no more in one bank than another, no more in bills than in coin, no more in your pocket than in another man's.

It is only when you begin trying to buy something with your money that the sense of value enters your mind.

Your $1500 is worth more than another man's $1500, if at all, only because you are able to buy more with yours than he can buy with his.

We believe that when you buy a Chalmers "30" your $1500 becomes worth more than $1500 invested in any other car. Careful investigation will convince you of this fact.

Please remember you are not buying a price on an advertisement; you are buying a car. Therefore, examine the car on its merits.

Remember in your investigation that all the good points of the car do not show on the surface—that what it has done is the only indication of what it will do. So in comparing the Chalmers with other cars compare also their records. Bear in mind that the Chalmers has never been defeated in any automobile contest by a car of its own class—that it was selected as official pathfinder for the 1910 Glidden Tour—that it was awarded the Glidden Trophy in competition with cars of more than twice its price. Never before has the Glidden Trophy been won by a car costing less than $4000.

The various models of the 1911 Chalmers are on exhibition at our salesrooms. Our experts will gladly go over them with you point by point and give demonstrations.
